

but he will not allow himself to be put up for the purpose of defeating, and, as he expresses it, humiliating Hill. He will not allow his name to be used as a candidate for temporary chairman if the national committee should name Hill for the place.

Mr. White presided as temporary chairman in the convention of 1888 and was most acceptable; he is strong in voice and constitution; and in every way kept the convention moving and free from confusion. But as it seems practically settled that Hill is to be selected by the national committee, White cannot be considered as a possibility for temporary chairman of the present convention. He is quite possible, however, that he may be selected for permanent chairman. There are quite a number of silver men who are earnestly in favor of Congressman Richardson, of Tennessee, for temporary chairman. Richardson has frequently presided in the house of representatives and was selected by Speaker Crisp for chairman of the committee of the whole during the long debate on the Wilson tariff bill. He is a good parliamentarian and would make a good officer provided his voice could reach all parts of the convention hall. But those who are pushing his candidacy are met by others who are making every effort to have Senator Harris, of Tennessee, made temporary or permanent chairman. Of course, if Richardson is selected for temporary chairman another Tennessee man could not be made permanent chairman. The silver men are considerably disturbed over this situation of affairs and scarcely know which way to turn to get out of the dilemma. Ex-Congressman Bryan, of Nebraska, has been generally spoken of, but the fact that his delegation is contested, makes his selection as temporary chairman one of doubtful expediency. Yet it is quite possible that the convention may desire that it will make no difference whether a man was a delegate or not in the selection of a temporary presiding officer, because members of the national committee hold that the committee has the right to go outside of the convention for a temporary officer.

The silver men say that between now and the time when the convention is called to order the differences will be adjusted and some man agreed upon for temporary chairman.

Secret Silver Conference.
A secret meeting of the leading silver men was held at the Sherman House to-day. The conference was devoted exclusively to a discussion of the situation with reference to the selection of a temporary presiding officer, and the majority of those present announced themselves as favorable to the selection of Senator White. It was understood, however, that the action should be in no sense binding as to Senator White, but that the selection should be finally made by the full silver committee to-morrow afternoon, after being passed upon at a previous meeting of the steering committee.

The advisability of accepting Senator Hill for the position was discussed at some length. "If Mr. Hill is a Democrat, as he unquestionably is," said one of the men present, "he will recognize the right of the majority to rule. He knows the train is coming, and he must get off the track if he does not want to be knocked off."

The members of the Democratic national committee who are silver men held a second meeting to-night to agree on a candidate for temporary chairman of the convention and decided to recommend Senator John W. Daniel, of Virginia. Senator White, of California, who had been previously selected by them, but who, when delegates called upon him to confer about the matter, said that on account of other engagements it would be out of the question for him to serve. Senator Daniel's name may be presented to the full committee for temporary chairman by the silver members. If the gold committee, who are a majority, insist upon presenting the name of Senator Hill or some other gold man to the convention, the silver contingent will nominate Daniel. It is possible that Daniel's name will be brought before the convention as a minority report from the national committee.

MARTINSBURG, W. Va., July 5.—F. O. Workman, a mail clerk on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad between Baltimore and Grafton, who lives near Keyser, W. Va., dropped dead on the street here at an early hour yesterday morning. He had been off an eastbound train to get his breakfast before taking a train back, and was on his way to the hotel at the time. Heart disease was the cause of his death, and he was aged about thirty years.

Good Wells in the Ogden Field.
Special Dispatch to the Intelligencer.
PARKERSBURG, July 5.—Dyke oil well No. 2, in the Ogden field and Little No. 2, in the same field, are just in, and are both fine producers. Robert Wallace, a young man of this city, who owns one-twelfth of the Dyke lease, holds an option of a Pennsylvania company who have offered him $20,000.

A Deadly Duel.
RUSSELLVILLE, Ky., July 5.—A deadly duel took place near Adairville yesterday morning. Dick Younger went to town drunk. As he rode out of town he fired a pistol. H. H. Harmon, the town marshal, jumped on a horse and started after Younger. An hour later both men were found dead about one mile from the town. Both had been shot through the heart, and only one chamber in each revolver had been discharged. The two were brothers. William Younger, a brother of Dick, was killed at Adairville by Bates Patterson four years ago. The Youngers were relatives of the famous Younger outlaws.

Elks' Reunion.
CINCINNATI, O., July 5.—This city is in holiday attire for the twenty-fifth annual reunion of the Benevolent Protective Order of Elks, which meets this week. This promises to be the greatest event in the history of Elksdom, it being the first grand lodge meeting of the reunited factions of Elks, whose quarrel last year came near being fatal.

Sanitall's Successor.
ROME, July 5.—According to a newspaper statement Bishop Falconio, of Acerenza, will replace Cardinal Sall as papal legate in the United States. Bishop Falconio was once engaged at Bonaventure College, Allegheny, New York.

In the vicinity of Boquet, Westmoreland County, Pa., almost anyone can tell you how to cure a lame back or stiff neck. They dangle a piece of flannel with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bind it on the affected parts and in one or two days the trouble has disappeared. This same treatment will promptly cure a pain in the side or chest. Mr. E. M. Frye, a prominent merchant of Boquet, speaks very highly of Pain Balm, and his recommendations have had much to do with making it popular there.

THE TELLER CLUB

Holds a Meeting for the First Time in Egerton Hall.

"ALL FRIENDS OF SILVER"

Were Invited to Attend—Fifty Responded to the Call, but Many Leave Before the Meeting Closes—Delusive Populist Arguments Advanced by Mr. Hartmann and the Other Speakers—They Look to Chicago for their Platform.

Last week "dodgers" were scattered about town quite numerous, calling upon all "friends of silver" to meet at Egerton's hall on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, when addresses would be made and an organization to battle for the white metal perfected.

When Mr. George W. Robinson called the meeting to order at 3 o'clock, there were about fifty persons seated in the hall. Three-fourths of these were young men who had evidently come from curiosity alone, as they drifted out gradually during the progress of the meeting. When the third and last speaker, Mr. Robinson, had concluded, there were twelve persons in the hall, and of these eight were the original members of the Teller Silver Club, which was organized a week ago.

The first speaker was Mr. Samuel Hartmann, of the South Side, who has been one of the Populist party leaders in Ohio county since its organization. Formerly with the battle of Waterloo and endeavored to make that event one of the causes for the ill of to-day in America. Immediately after the battle, said Mr. Hartmann, a representative of the London Rothschilds departed for England. Relays of horses awaited him and he reached London days in advance of the official news of the battle. The agent of the financial house imparted the false news that Wellington had lost. The result was a panic, during which consols dropped one-half. The Rothschilds bought up the result of the battle, that ended Napoleon's career, reached London, they had all the consols, which speedily went up to 150. From that event dated the financial supremacy of the house of Rothschild. In 1816 it compelled the British parliament to pass the single standard act. A result of that act has been the cutting down of the number of property owners in the British Isles from 490,000 to 29,000 in fifty years.

"And the same thing will happen here in America," said the speaker, "unless the people are awakened, and they are awakened. Nine months ago there was little or no light on the money question, but now all is changed. Republicans have become Democrats and Democrats have become Republicans."

The gold standard sentiment has been created by a subsidized press, claimed the speaker. That press cries out: "Why not have a dollar worth 100 cents?" but it never says anything about a dollar that is worth 200 cents. The speaker next quoted from Senator Ingalls, who was shown to have said that gold was a more dangerous enemy to the country during the war of the rebellion than the rebel army.

The speaker next proceeded to give what he called the true history of the demonization of silver in 1873, referring frequently to some yellow-backed white metal literature that he was plentifully supplied with. Of course he gave the same old Populist version of the act of 1873, regulating the money of the country, alleging that it was passed without being read at the instance of John Sherman. His reference to this piece of history would not have been complete, from his standpoint, had he not told glibly and with true Populist fervor, told the old fabrication that the American Congress was bought up by a representative "of the terrible English money tramps."

"What is the matter with the country?" inquired the speaker. "It is one of the richest and most industrious, yet to-day it is unhappy and bankrupt. Proceeding by said trouble in the financial legislation of the years following the war. Further, he claimed, there is a disposition in America to build up an aristocracy and make slaves and serfs of the common people. The speaker several times made the dire prediction that the fruits of the American republicanism are to be lost. "We are already the financial slaves of England and it appears we are on the road to become her political subjects again."

The next speaker was Mr. H. M. Alger, of the Island, a former Republican. He claimed that the present market ratio between silver and gold is not the true ratio, and that the nomination of a free silver man on a free silver ticket at Chicago this week would give the stamp of truth to his assertion. Silver would advance and the free silver candidate had been elected, the true ratio of gold and silver would be restored, 16 to 1. He claimed that the money question is the true issue of this campaign, and that the difference of 7 per cent between the Gorman-Wilson and McKinley tariffs cannot constitute the main issue as the Republicans insist it is. The distress of the past three years, he said, cannot be attributed to tariff changes. Silver is the issue, and on that issue hundreds of thousands of Republicans are going to bolt their party and elect just as Senator Teller did in St. Louis. He claimed that if the sainted Lincoln were here now he would act as Mr. Teller acted three weeks ago. He expressed the hope that the Democratic convention would so act that the friends of silver would be able to unite upon its platform and candidate.

The third and last speaker was Mr. George W. Robinson, elected two years ago as county commissioner on the Republican ticket, from the Island, and recently defeated for the Republican nomination for clerk of the circuit court on the same ticket. He read in its entirety a lengthy article from the "Arena" on the silver end of the money question.

Concluding his remarks, he said that another meeting of the friends of silver would be held next week, and that the nomination of a free silver man at Chicago would fill the hall. He held the opinion that every man who has the good of his country at heart will now cast aside old party affiliations and vote for justice to silver.

The Teller club which was formed recently is made up of the following charter members: George W. Robinson, Samuel Hartmann, Michael Forrest, H. M. Alger, B. M. Eoff, T. McConiff, Chris. Beck and Philip C. Wentzel.

MCKINLEY IN HAWAII

His Nomination Creates No Surprise in that Country—Foreign Policy.

HONOLULU, June 28, via Steamer City of Peking to San Francisco, July 5.—The nomination of McKinley created no surprise in this city. Although he is the author of a bill that injured this country in a commercial way, it is not believed that he is hostile to the Hawaiian republic, and many people are of the opinion that he is in favor of annexation.

The plank in the Republican platform referring to Hawaii is very disappointing to the American residents of this country. Many believed that annexation would be made one of the issues of the campaign. However, the Advertiser takes a hopeful view, and says: "The foreign policy outlined for the campaign will be received with unalloyed gratification in this country. It is a practical sanction of the administration of President Harrison and without making the annexation question a direct party issue, foreshadows the success of the movement for closer relations."

Governor McKinley's Sunday.
CANTON, Ohio, July 5.—Governor McKinley went to church to-day, but instead of going to the First Methodist Episcopal, of which he is a trustee, where he and his mother meet generally occupy a pew, he went to Trinity Lutheran, where Rev. Dr. D. H. Baughin preached a patriotic sermon. Appropriately to the Fourth of July season.

Governor and Mrs. McKinley took their customary drive during the afternoon and also received callers. Among the number was Charles Brackenbury, of New York. Governor McKinley's present plans contemplate but one day's absence from Canton in the immediate future, and that is a day in Cleveland, when he will probably be the guest of Mr. Hanna.
